1. General Information

BioSyent Inc. (“BioSyent” or the “Company”), is a publicly traded specialty pharmaceutical company which, through its wholly-owned subsidiaries, BioSyent Pharma Inc. (“BioSyent Pharma”) and BioSyent Pharma International Inc., acquires or licences and further develops pharmaceutical and other healthcare products for sale in Canada and certain international markets. Hedley Technologies Ltd., a wholly-owned subsidiary of BioSyent, operates the Company’s legacy business marketing biologically and health friendly non-chemical insecticides. BioSyent’s issued and outstanding common shares (the “Common Shares”) are listed for trading on the TSX Venture Exchange under the symbol “RX”.

The accompanying interim unaudited condensed consolidated financial statements (the “Financial Statements”) of BioSyent include the accounts of BioSyent Inc. and its four wholly-owned subsidiaries: BioSyent Pharma Inc., BioSyent Pharma International Inc., Hedley Technologies Ltd., and Hedley Technologies (USA) Inc. (formerly HTI Agritech (USA) Inc.) (“Hedley USA”).

The Company changed its name from “Hedley Technologies Inc.” to “BioSyent Inc.” on June 13, 2006 to reflect the Company’s forward focus on the pharmaceutical market. Hedley Technologies Ltd. was incorporated on January 30, 1996 in the province of British Columbia, Canada. Hedley USA was incorporated on May 13, 1994 in the state of Washington, USA. These Financial Statements were approved by the Board of Directors on August 21, 2018.

2. Basis of Presentation

The principal accounting policies adopted in the preparation of these Financial Statements on a historical cost basis, with the exception of those financial assets and liabilities at fair value through profit or loss (FVTPL), are set out below. The policies have been consistently applied to all the periods presented.

Statement of Compliance

These Financial Statements are in compliance with International Accounting Standard 34, “Interim Financial Reporting” (“IAS34”). Accordingly, certain information and disclosures normally included in annual financial statements prepared in accordance with International Financial Reporting Standards (“IFRS”), as issued by the International Accounting Standards Board (“IASB”) have been omitted or condensed.

Since these Financial Statements do not include all disclosures required by IFRS for annual financial statements, they should be read in conjunction with the Company’s audited consolidated financial statements for the year ended December 31, 2017.

Basis of Consolidation

All inter-company transactions have been eliminated in these Financial Statements.

Functional and Presentation Currency

The presentation currency of these Financial Statements is the Canadian dollar (“CAD”). The functional currency of the Company and two of its subsidiaries, BioSyent Pharma and Hedley Technologies is the Canadian dollar. The functional currency of Hedley USA and BioSyent Pharma International Inc. is the U.S. dollar (“USD”).

All financial information has been rounded to the nearest dollar except when otherwise indicated.

3. Summary of Changes to Significant Accounting Policies

a. Adoption of IFRS 9 Financial Instruments:

Effective January 1, 2018, the Company adopted IFRS 9 Financial Instruments, which replaced the existing guidance in IAS 39 Financial Instruments: Recognition and Measurement. The Company applied the new standard retrospectively and, in accordance with the transitional provisions, comparative figures have not been restated. The adoption of IFRS 9 did not have a material impact on the Company’s Financial Statements.

IFRS 9 includes guidance on the classification and measurement of financial instruments and introduces a new expected credit loss (“ECL”) model for calculating impairment on financial assets as well as new general hedge accounting requirements. It also carries forward the guidance on recognition and derecognition of financial instruments from IAS 39. IFRS 9 contains three principal classification categories for financial assets: measured at amortized cost, fair value through other comprehensive income (“FVOCI”) and fair value through profit or loss (“FVTPL”). The previous IAS 39 categories of held to maturity, loans and receivables and available for sale are eliminated. IFRS 9 largely retains the existing requirements in IAS 39 for the classification of financial liabilities.

As a result of adopting this standard, certain of the Company’s financial assets previously classified in the loans and receivables category under IAS 39, specifically, the Company’s trade receivables, other receivables, and loans receivable, are now classified in the amortized cost category under IFRS 9.

Additionally, the Company’s accounts payable and accrued liabilities, previously classified as other financial liabilities under IAS 39, are now classified in the amortized cost category under IFRS 9. These new classification categories do not impact the measurement basis for the Company's financial assets and liabilities. There were no adjustments to the carrying amounts of these financial instruments as a result of the adoption of IFRS 9.

There was also no impact on the Company's credit risk assessments as a result of adopting IFRS 9 and the ECL model for calculating impairment on financial assets, given the nature of the Company's financial assets, customer base, and history of incurring minimal credit losses.

The following accounting policy is applicable from January 1, 2018:

Financial Instruments

All financial assets and financial liabilities, in respect of financial instruments, are recognized on the Company's statements of financial position when the Company becomes a party to the contractual provisions of the instrument.

Financial assets and financial liabilities are initially measured at fair value. Transaction costs that are incremental and are directly attributable to the acquisition or issue of financial assets and financial liabilities (other than financial assets and financial liabilities measured at fair value through profit or loss) are added to or deducted from the fair value of the financial assets or financial liabilities, as appropriate, on initial recognition. Transaction costs directly attributable to the acquisition of financial assets or financial liabilities at fair value through profit or loss are recognized immediately in profit or loss.

Financial assets and liabilities are offset and the net amount presented in the statements of financial position when, and only when, the Company has a legal right to offset the amounts and intends either to settle on a net basis or to realize the asset and settle the liability simultaneously.

The Company derecognizes a financial asset when the contractual rights to the cash flows from the asset expire, or it transfers the rights to receive the contractual cash flows on the financial asset in a transaction in which substantially all the risks and rewards of ownership of the financial asset are transferred.

The classification of financial instruments dictates how these assets and liabilities are measured subsequently in the Company's consolidated financial statements.

Impairment of Financial Assets

The Company assesses at each statement of financial position date whether there is objective evidence that a financial asset or group of financial assets is impaired.

If there is objective evidence that an impairment loss has occurred on an unquoted or not actively traded equity instrument that is not carried at fair value (because its fair value cannot be reliably measured), the amount of the loss is measured as the difference between the asset's carrying amount and the present value of estimated future cash flows discounted at the current market rate of return for a similar financial asset and is recognized in profit or loss for the period. Reversals of impairment losses on assets carried at cost are not permitted.

For financial assets carried at amortized cost, the Company recognizes loss allowances for ECLs on its financial assets measured at amortized cost. ECLs are a probability-weighted estimate of credit losses. Credit losses are measured as the present value of the difference between the cash flows due to the entity in accordance with the contract and the cash flows that the Company expects to receive. ECLs are discounted at the effective interest rate of the related financial asset. The Company does not have any financial assets that contain a financing component.

Objective evidence of impairment of financial assets carried at amortized cost exists if the counterparty is experiencing significant financial difficulty, there is a breach of contract, concessions are granted to the counterparty that would not normally be granted, or it is probable the counterparty will enter into bankruptcy or a financial reorganization.

Fair Value Measurement

Fair value is the price that would be received to sell an asset or paid to transfer a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants at the measurement date. The fair value hierarchy establishes three levels to classify the inputs to valuation techniques used to measure fair value, by reference to the reliability of the inputs used to estimate the fair values.

Level 1 – quoted prices (unadjusted) in active markets for identical assets or liabilities;

Level 2 – inputs other than quoted prices included within Level 1 that are observable for the asset or liability, either directly (i.e., as prices) or indirectly (i.e., derived from prices); and

Level 3 – inputs for the asset or liability that are not based on observable market data (unobservable inputs).

The Company's forward contract derivatives are measured at fair value through profit or loss using Level 2 inputs. The Company's cash and cash equivalents are measured at fair value through profit or loss using Level 1 inputs. There were no transfers between Levels 1 or 2 during the period.

Financial Instruments Measured at Fair Value Through Profit or Loss (FVTPL)

Financial instruments are classified as FVTPL when they are held for trading. A financial instrument is held for trading if it was acquired for the purpose of sale in the near term. Derivative financial instruments that are not designated and effective as hedging instruments are classified as FVTPL. Financial instruments classified as FVTPL are stated at fair value with any changes in fair value recognized in earnings for the period. Financial assets in this category include cash and cash equivalents, short-term investments, and derivatives. The Company may enter into derivative financial instruments to manage exposure to foreign exchange fluctuations and to improve the returns on its cash assets. These instruments are non-hedge derivative instruments.

Financial Assets Measured at Amortized Cost

Financial assets measured at amortized cost are financial assets with fixed or determinable payments that are not quoted in an active market. Such assets are initially recognized at fair value plus any directly attributable transaction costs. Subsequent to initial recognition, these financial assets are measured at amortized cost using the effective interest method, less any impairment losses. Financial assets in this category include trade receivables, other receivables, and loans receivable.

Loans receivable consist of full recourse loans issued to employees, as described in Note 12. As the loans are full recourse, they are not recorded as share-based payments, but instead as loans which fall within the scope of IFRS 9 Financial Instruments.

Financial Liabilities Measured at Amortized Cost

Financial liabilities measured at amortized cost are recognized initially at fair value net of any directly attributable transaction costs. Subsequent to initial recognition, these financial liabilities are measured at amortized cost using the effective interest method. Other financial liabilities are de-recognized when the obligations are discharged, cancelled or expired. Financial liabilities in this category include accounts payable and accrued liabilities.

b. Adoption of IFRS 15 Revenue from Contracts with Customers:

Effective January 1, 2018, the Company adopted IFRS 15 Revenue from Contracts with Customers. IFRS 15 replaces IAS 11 Construction Contracts, IAS 18 Revenue, IFRIC 13 Customer Loyalty Programmes, IFRIC 15 Agreements for the Construction of Real Estate, IFRIC 18 Transfer of Assets from Customers and SIC 31 Revenue – Barter Transactions Involving Advertising Services. IFRS 15 establishes principles for reporting the nature, amount, timing, and uncertainty of revenue and cash flows arising from an entity's contract with customers.

IFRS 15 introduces a 5-step revenue recognition model based on the principle that an entity should recognize revenue as performance obligations are satisfied based on the transfer of promised goods or services to customers in an amount that reflects the consideration to which the entity expects to be entitled:

- Step 1: Identify the contract(s) with a customer;
- Step 2: Identify the performance obligations in the contract;
- Step 3: Determine the transaction price;
- Step 4: Allocate the transaction price to the performance obligations in the contract; and
- Step 5: Recognize revenue when (or as) the entity satisfies a performance obligation.

The Company has elected to apply IFRS 15 using the modified retrospective approach only to contracts that were not completed contracts as of the date of initial application (January 1, 2018). Under this approach, the Company has recognized the cumulative effect of adopting IFRS 15 in opening retained earnings on the date of initial application, without restating comparative figures.

The application of IFRS 15 affects the Company's determination of the transaction price in Step 3 of the revenue recognition model and the amount of revenue the Company recognizes due to the variable consideration element arising in certain of its contracts with customers. Promised consideration from a customer can vary due to discounts, rebates, refunds, credits, price concessions, incentives, or similar items.

Variable consideration in certain of the Company's contracts with customers arises from the following elements:

- Cash discounts to wholesaler customers;
- Rebates to hospital buying groups;
- Volume rebates on certain product sales;
- Returns for lost, damaged, or expired goods;
- The issuance of retail coupons for certain of the Company's pharmaceutical products; and
- Point of sale rebates in certain retail stores.

Where the consideration promised in a contract with a customer includes a variable amount, IFRS 15 requires that an entity estimate the amount of consideration to which it ultimately expects to be entitled in exchange for transferring the promised goods or services to a customer.

As a result of applying these requirements of IFRS 15 as of the date of initial application, the Company recognized the following adjustments to its consolidated statement of financial position as of January 1, 2018:

As at January 1, 2018

Line Item	Impact upon adoption of IFRS 15 ($)
Increase in refund liability	57,747
Increase in income tax recoverable	(15,303)
Decrease in retained earnings	(42,444)

No other line items on the statement of financial position were affected as at January 1, 2018 as a result of the adoption of IFRS 15. As a result of variable consideration arising from volume rebates, product returns, and retail coupons for certain contracts with customers in respect of the Company's pharmaceutical products, the cumulative amount of net revenues previously recognized in the Company's Canadian Pharmaceutical Business under IAS 18 Revenue to January 1, 2018 would be reduced by $57,747 and the amount of net income after tax previously recognized would be reduced by $42,444. As a result of this net transition impact, the Company's opening retained earnings was reduced by $42,444 as of January 1, 2018.

As at June 30, 2018, the following line items of the Company's consolidated statement of financial position were affected as a result of applying these requirements of IFRS 15 versus amounts which would have been recognized under IAS 18 Revenue:

As at June 30, 2018

Line Item	Impact of adoption of IFRS 15 ($)
Increase in refund liability	110,339
Decrease in accounts payable and accrued liabilities	(37,395)
Decrease in income taxes payable	(19,330)
Decrease in retained earnings	(53,614)

No other line items on the statement of financial position were affected as at June 30, 2018 as a result of the adoption of IFRS 15.

For the six months ended June 30, 2018, the following line items of the Company's consolidated statement of comprehensive income were affected as a result of applying these requirements of IFRS 15 versus amounts which would have been recognized under IAS 18 Revenue:

For the six months ended June 30, 2018

Line Item	Impact of adoption of IFRS 15 ($)
Decrease in net revenues	(122,908)
Decrease in selling, general and administration expenses	49,964
Decrease in income tax expense	19,330
Decrease in net income after tax	53,614

No other line items on the statement of comprehensive income were affected for the three and six months ended June 30, 2018 as a result of the adoption of IFRS 15.

The following accounting policy is applicable from January 1, 2018:

Revenue Recognition

The Company recognizes revenue from the following products:

- Pharmaceutical products; and
- Grain Insecticides

Revenue resulting from the sale of goods to resellers or final customers is measured at the agreed upon consideration received or receivable, net of estimated variable consideration, including

4. Use of Estimates and Accounting Judgments by Management

There have been no material revisions to the nature and amount of changes in estimates of amounts reported in the Company's consolidated financial statements for the year ended December 31, 2017, with the exception of the following as a result of the adoption of IFRS 15 Revenue from contracts with customers, on January 1, 2018:

Determination of transaction price

As certain of the Company's contracts with customers contain elements of variable consideration arising from returns, discounts, rebates and other price incentives, the Company is required to estimate the amount of variable consideration from the customer returns for damaged or expired product, discounts, rebates and other price incentives. As the Company's estimates of variable consideration for such price incentives are typically constrained, these estimated amounts are deducted from the transaction price. The Company recognizes a refund liability when it receives consideration from a customer and expects to refund some or all of that consideration to the customer.

The Company satisfies its performance obligations in contracts with customers at a point in time upon the physical delivery of pharmaceutical goods and grain insecticides to the customer's location. The Company's typical payment terms with customers are net, 30 days. None of the Company's contracts with customers contain any financing component.

c. Recent Accounting Pronouncements not yet Adopted

Certain new standards, amendments and interpretations to existing standards have been published by the IASB but are not yet effective and have not yet been adopted by the Company and could have an impact on future periods. Management anticipates that all of the relevant pronouncements will be adopted by the Company for the first period following the effective date of the pronouncement.

IFRS 16 Leases:

IFRS 16 supersedes IAS 17 Leases, IFRIC 4 Determining whether an Arrangement contains a Lease, SIC-15 Operating Leases – Incentives and SIC-27 Evaluating the Substance of Transactions Involving the Legal Form of a Lease. It eliminates the distinction between operating and finance leases from the perspective of the lessee. All contracts that meet the definition of a lease will be recorded in the statement of financial position with a "right of use" asset and a corresponding liability. The asset is subsequently accounted for as property, plant and equipment or investment property and the liability is unwound using the interest rate inherent in the lease. The accounting requirements from the perspective of the lessor remains largely in line with previous IAS 17 requirements. The effective date for IFRS 16 is January 1, 2019. The Company is in the process of evaluating the impact of this new standard, but does not anticipate any material impact on its current accounting policies.

to which the Company ultimately expects to be entitled and to adjust transaction price and amount of revenue recognized accordingly.

The Company estimates the extent of future product returns, coupon redemptions, discounts and volume rebates to be awarded to customers based on historical, current and forecast information available, taking into consideration the type of customer, the type of transaction and the specifics of each arrangement.

5. Trade and other receivables

Trade and other receivables are summarized as follows:

	June 30, 2018	December 31, 2017

7. Financial Instruments and Financial Risk Management

Fair Value Measurement

Fair Value Estimation of Financial Instruments

The carrying value of the Company's cash and cash equivalents, short term investments, derivative assets and liabilities, trade and other receivables, loans receivable, and accounts payable and accrued liabilities approximate their fair values due to the immediate or short term maturity of these instruments.

Risks

The Company is exposed to a variety of financial risks by virtue of its activities: market risk (including foreign exchange risk, interest rate risk, and credit risk) and liquidity risk. The overall risk management program focuses on the unpredictability of financial markets and seeks to minimize potential adverse effects on financial performance. Risk management is carried out under the policies described below. Management is charged with the responsibility of establishing controls and procedures to ensure that financial risks are mitigated with the approved policies.

➤ Forward Contracts:

The Company periodically enters into foreign exchange forward contracts to manage its foreign exchange risk on contracts denominated in U.S. dollars with financial institutions with investment grade credit ratings. Such contracts are classified as derivative financial instruments and measured at fair value through profit and loss. ➤ Foreign Exchange Risk:

The Company currently earns revenue in Canadian dollars, U.S. dollars and Euros and incurs costs in Canadian dollars, U.S. dollars and Euros. Management monitors the foreign currency net liability position on an ongoing basis during the period and adjusts the total net monetary liability balance accordingly. When it

The Company also entered into forward contracts as at June 30, 2018 to sell a total of EUR 1,500,000 (December 31, 2017 – Nil) at exchange rates expressed in EUR per CAD ranging from 1.6055 to 1.6165 which will be settled on various dates from July 2018 to September 2018.

The following table illustrates the Company's investment in forward contracts that are measured at fair value through profit and loss ("FVTPL"):

is appropriate to de-risk future foreign exchange transactions, the Company will reduce its exposure by booking foreign exchange forward cover transactions.

The following tables present foreign exchange sensitivity analyses for the assets and liabilities of the Company denominated in foreign currencies:

➤ Interest Rate Risk:

Cash flow interest rate risk is the risk that the future cash flow of a financial instrument will fluctuate because of changes in interest rates. Some of the Company's cash and cash equivalents as at the date of the Company's Consolidated Statement of Financial Position are invested in redeemable guaranteed investment certificates (each, a "GIC"), which earn interest at fixed rates during their tenure. The Company manages its interest rate risk by maximizing the interest income earned on excess funds while maintaining the liquidity necessary to conduct operations on a day-to-day basis. Fluctuations in market rates of interest when these GICs are renewed may have an impact on the Company's Finance Income for the period.

One customer represents 14% of trade receivables (December 31, 2017 - 15%) while another customer represents 39% of trade receivables (December 31, 2017 - 45%), and a third customer represents 13% of trade receivables (December 31, 2017 - 13%). There have been no past defaults by any of these customers.

Cash, cash equivalents and short term investments are maintained with Canadian financial institutions and the wholly-owned subsidiaries of these financial institutions. Deposits held with banks may exceed the amount of insurance provided on such deposits.

➤ Credit Risk:

Credit risk is the risk of financial loss to the Company if a customer or counterparty to a financial instrument fails to meet its contractual obligations, and arises principally from the Company's cash and cash equivalents, short term investments, trade and other receivables, and loans receivable. The carrying amount of financial assets represents maximum credit exposure. As the Company invests some of its cash in redeemable GICs, its credit risk on this account is negligible. The Company's loans receivable (Note 12) are full recourse and secured by a pledge of common shares of the Company purchased by the Borrowers, who are key management personnel. Based on these factors, the Company considers the credit risk associated with these loans receivable to be low.

The majority of the Company's current customers are large corporations. These customers have been dealing with the Company for several years and have never defaulted in settling their liabilities to the Company. Amounts past due are receivable from large corporations and as such, based on historical experience, the Company does not consider such amounts to be impaired.

Generally, these deposits may be redeemed upon demand and are maintained with financial institutions of reputable credit and therefore bear minimal credit risk.

➤ Liquidity Risk:

Liquidity risk is the risk that the Company will not be able to meet its obligations as they fall due. The Company manages its liquidity risk by forecasting cash flows from operations and anticipated investing and financing activities. Senior management is actively involved in the review and approval of planned expenditures. All contractual maturities of accounts payable and accrued liabilities are due within one year. The Company has no other liabilities.

The Company generates sufficient cash from operating activities to fund its operations and fulfill its obligations as they become due. The Company has credit facilities available with Royal Bank of Canada totalling $2,560,000, including a revolving demand credit facility of $1,500,000 which it has not drawn down as at the date hereof, a foreign exchange facility of $1,000,000, and credit card facilities totalling $60,000.

There were no changes to the Company's exposure to liquidity risk, credit risk, or interest rate risk or to its approach to managing these risks during the three and six months ended June 30, 2018.

June 30, 2018	$25,183,197

- to provide an adequate rate of return to its shareholders.

The Company manages and adjusts its capital structure in light of changes in economic conditions.

In order to maintain or adjust its capital structure, the Company may issue debt or new shares. Financing decisions are generally made on a specific transaction basis and depend on such things as the Company's needs, capital markets and economic conditions at the time of the transaction. The assessment is based upon existing tax laws and estimates of future taxable income. To the extent estimates differ from the final tax return, earnings would be affected in a subsequent period. The operations are subject to income tax rates of 26.5% (2017– 26.5%) in the Canadian jurisdiction, 21.0% (2017 – 35.0%) in the U.S. jurisdiction, and 2.5% (2017 – 2.5%) in the Barbados jurisdiction.
